"Dear girls: The course is optional."

- Each day last year, from October 29 until Christmas, 24 women assembled in the community hall to fashion wreaths from balsam boughs under Adams' direction. Adams reported wreath making took on the aspect of an old-time uilting bee. It enlivened the soal life of the community which ordinarily slows down after the bustling tourist season. It also gave the town a new source of income. Men, too, had a big part in t venture. They hauled in trucklo of boughs from their farms, rece

There was another doctor, a surgeon in a midwestern city, not many years ago, who was ready to retire. He had enough to live on in comfort, and the life of a success ful surgeon in a great city is a wearing one. But instead of retiring, he went out to China, and in a remote province he spent his "retiring" years at his own expense, hardly knowing a word of Chinese, but having the time of his life and rendering himself if possible more he had ever been back in the states. Again there was the surgeon Alexis Carrel, who with another scientist first succeeded in keeping living tissue (a chicken's heart) alive for years beyond the time when it "should have" died,-a surgeon who also believed in the power of prayer and whose book "Man the Unknown' is valuable as com-bining the scientific and the Christian view of man. Or there was Dr. I. J. Archer of Chicago and North Carolina, who operated two sanitariums more
